HYAKEM 1944

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF CENTRAL WASHINGTON COLLEGE

FOREWORD

For you, the Hyakem staff has endeavored to preserve many of the '43-'44 memories you have of C. W. C. E.

The year brought many changes in our normal routine and February marked the first anniversary of the College Training Detachment on our campus. We hope the pictures in this book will help you in recalling this eventual year.

MRS. NORMAN HOWELL

PRESIDENT McCONNELL

PRESIDENT McCONNELL'S MESSAGE

This college year of 1943-44 has been an exceptionally busy one. Army Air Forces students have occupied Kamola Hall and have received their instruction in several classrooms and laboratories set aside for their use. Their presence has added a military air to the college life. Civilian students and faculty have put forth an unusual effort to make this program a successful undertaking. We all have been pleased to have this opportunity to participate in the war training program. The 314th College Training Detachment has been successful, and it will live favorably in the memories of all of those who have had a part in it. The pages of this book reflect how the aviation students have entered into all phases of the life of the campus.

Likewise, civilian students of education, nursing, business, and home economics have had a busy year. They too have been training themselves for service to their country. In fact, the entire college has been tuned to patriotic services.

This Hyakem will provide us with a record of this important war year. It is truly a history that will be of intense interest to many.

We extend the best of wishes to those who graduate and to those who leave us for other assignments. Good luck!

ROBERT E. McCONNELL

ADMINISTRATION

BUSINESS OFFICE

The personnel of the Business Office consists of Kenneth Courson, Business Manager; J. A. Cleman, Assistant Accountant; Barbara Fischer, Cashier; Marguerite Hansen, Bookkeeper; and Ruthanne Curry, Clerk. Dawn Frank is the newest addition to the staff and occupies the position of Miss Curry who left in the Spring to be married.

This office is a busy place the year 'round. It is here the enthusiastic freshman, along with the upper-classman, pays his tuition and his bills. These, however, are small details, for in this office the various expenditures to maintain the College are budgeted, supplies are purchased, bills are paid, the payroll for the personnel of the College is handled, and accounts are maintained.

All of the staff find work in this office a real pleasure under the leadership of Mr. Courson, a man with unusual ability and a genial personality.

Mrs. Barbara Smith, Mr. Kenneth Courson, Mr. J. A. Clemmens.
Miss Ruth Ann Curry, Marguerite Hansen.

Top: Personnel and Placement Office: Dr. E. E. Samuelson and Mrs. L. Jones.
Bottom: Business Office: Betty Gray, Lee Johnson, Miss Dorothy Freegard, and Mr. Harold Barle.

Personnell and Placement Office; Registrar's Office

The Personnell and Placement Office serves the College by coordinating the personnel program of the college, administering the student testing program and maintaining personnel files for all students, and assisting graduates in securing teaching positions.

The most important function of the Registrar's Office is the maintenance of current and permanent student records for all persons who have ever attended C. W. C. E. In addition to this, this office has charge of registering all students each quarter, scheduling class periods and class rooms, and sending out report cards.

DEAN OF WOMEN

College education comprises two types of training—the formal education which is obtained in class rooms, in laboratories, and in lecture halls, and the informal education which is derived from the experience of living, working, and playing with others in the dormitories, in student organizations, and in social activities. Both types of training are essential to achieve a well balanced personality; the one complements the other. It is this informal education with its many attendant problems that is the chief concern of the Dean of Women's office. The main objective of this office is the guidance and counselling of women students to the end that each may develop to the fullest of her own potentialities and become a happy and contributing member of the college community.

DORMITORY STAFF

This year's dormitory staff has consisted of Miss Delia Forgey, director and dietician; Mrs. Coffin and Mrs. Oldham, housemothers off Sue Lombard and Munson Hall, respectively. These three women have done a great deal to make the campus as comfortable and home-like as possible for the girls during the past year.

Dean of Women's Office: Frances Taylor, Mrs. Annette Hitchcock, Irene Olson.
Dormitory Staff: Mrs. Fannie Coffin, Mrs. Effie Oldham, Miss Delia Forgey.

COLLEGE LIBRARY

The college library has entered its fifty-third year as a service and instructional agency on the campus. Today, in 1944, we are justifiably proud of the collection of thirty-eight thousand volumes housed in a modern fireproof building. Here one may find a well equipped reference room, the bound files of one hundred fifty periodicals as well as two hundred fifty currently received magazines and newspapers. The Herbert C. Fish memorial library of Pacific Northwest History is an important special collection. The library of children's literature in the College Elementary School ranks high among such libraries in this state.

COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

The Bookstore will be eight years old next October. It was a rather delicate child, but with good care it has developed into a fairly healthy one.

The first year Miss Aspenwall did all the work with the exception of the janitor work. Joe Smoke did that. Most of you do not know Joe Smoke, but ask some of the instructors; they'll remember him. The next year Dick Bacon was student help—Capt. Richard Bacon, now a marine pilot, South Pacific!

The next year we moved, and Betty Wood was added as student help and stayed until she graduated. Then came Evelyn Conant Thompson and Paul Brailer, sergeant in the Air Force—"British Isles are my stamping grounds," writes Paul. Paul built several of our cases in the store and all the equipment in the store room.

Then came Helen Owen and Hal Chambers. Some of you know them; they've been away only a year. Helen hopes to do Red Cross Clubmobile work overseas. Hal is completing naval officers training at Notre Dame. Alice Gundersen came in during the last year of student help—so we had Helen, Alice and Hal. Later Ford Hoke took over Hal's work.

Then big news: Aviation Students are about to arrive—four hundred strong! At this time Marie Copeland was with us for a short time, and then came Winnifred Harrel who has been with us a year and has become "Cookie", "Penny", "Josie" and very much a part of the Bookstore.

COORDINATOR'S OFFICE

During normal times the Director of Instruction is charged with the responsibility for the supervision of the college program of instruction, extension courses given off-campus, the preparation of the college catalogs and bulletins, and the administration of scholarship regulations.

During the present war emergency the Director of Instruction also serves as coordinator for the Army Air Forces Program. He prepares study schedules, supervises the program of instruction, and acts as advisor to the army in academic matters.

OFFICE OF VISUAL EDUCATION

In addition to serving the visual education needs of the college classes, the army classes, and the college elementary school classes, the Office of Visual Education also functions as a unit of the Department of Public Service. From its up-to-date film library, educational motion pictures, film strips, and flat pictures are sent to schools, civic organizations, and other groups throughout the state of Washington.

Top: Coordinator's Office: Mary Bowman, Mr. Ernest Muzzall, Mary Coleman.
Office of Visual Education: Mr. Edward Rogel, Miss E. Gibbs.

CLASSES

Marjorie Hentz

Anita Goodman

Norma Hanson

SENIOR CLASS

The Senior Class of 1944 was few in number, with approximately twenty students at the beginning of Fall quarter. Many students have gone out to teach on three-year certificates in answer to the need for teachers in the state due to war-time conditions.

In December, "Reveal Your Secret Ambition" brought students and faculty dressed in gala costumes to the Senior Class Party, one of the year's funniest and most enjoyable dances.

During Spring quarter an exhibition of Senior talent was displayed during a competitive assembly, a new activity which we hope will become traditional on the campus.

Social Commissioner.....	Irene Olson

The Junior Class returned to tradition and had another barn dance this year. The dance was voted a huge success by all who attended.

The setting was a dude ranch in the wild and wooley west. "The Palace" and its bar was one of the more popular spots, due to cokes and pretzels. The dude ranch with its little tables and bales of straw was also a pleasant place.

A new atmosphere was furnished by the appearance of khaki replacing the costumes worn by the men of the past years.

At the end of Winter quarter our president, Betty Gray, left to be married. Her office was capably filled by Charlotte Gaze for the remainder of the term.

This year the class of '46 proved to be strictly an all-girl class; however, man shortage or no man shortage, the girls worked together for a very successful annual Cupid's Informal, which was held in the new gym February 12, 1944. It was a gala occasion with the Valentine theme being carried out very appropriately with cupids, valentines, little white picket fences, and a Sweetheart Wishing Well. The dance was extremely successful, and was well attended by the regularly enrolled student body and the Aviation Students of the 314th C. T. D., stationed at the College.

The charter of the Sophomore Class was revised during the Winter quarter so that the rules and the regulations would be continuous from year to year.

The lyoptian is a sophomore honorary and the women's service group of the campus under the jurisdiction of the Associated Women Students. Members are chosen from among the incoming sophomore girls. Qualifications considered for membership include scholarship, character, and interest in campus activities.

The girls this year sponsored many firesides and were in charge of the "Big Sister" program for the orientation of the freshman girls. The lyoptians were in charge of ushering for the Community Concerts and several other assembly programs. Highlight of the winter quarter activities was the "Kid Party" given in honor of the faculty members. In the Spring the annual banquet was held.

The Freshmen Class of 1943-44 started with a total of 113 students, five of whom were men. At the first meeting in the Fall quarter, the officers for the year were elected.

As each Freshman Class does, this one had to endure an initiation week. Freshmen from the two halls, Munson and Sue Lombard, were treated according to traditions plus other drastic measures. The girls of Sue Lombard underwent a fire drill at two o'clock in the morning.

There was also the more formal side of Freshmen Week, when the newcomers were oriented to the ways of C. W. C. E. There were inspirational and educational assemblies, tours of the campus, and time out for recreation provided by the W. A. A.

At one of the meetings during the Winter quarter, it was decided that the Freshmen were very active on the campus as individuals, but not as a class and a Freshmen night was planned. Gladys Jett and Madalyn Gordon were appointed to head the affair.

On March 11, 1944, the curtain went up on the production of the Freshmen Class' Freshmen Fantasy. It was a display of a great amount of work and an excellent performance. A majority of the class took part in the Fantasy. It was presented in two acts, the first act set in a dormitory room and the second in the form of a dream.

EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

As this is primarily a teacher-training institution, the Education Department plays an important role in the students curriculum. Also, all future teachers must take courses in psychology and philosophy before graduation. Faculty members of this department include Miss Hebel, Miss Simpson, Miss Anderson, Dr. Miller, Mr. Muzzall, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Stephens, Dr. Sparks, and Dr. Samuelson. In addition to these people, the teaching staff of the College Elementary School supervises student teaching.

The education courses involve such classes as State Law, Curriculum, Methods, Tests and Measurements, and Education I and 100. Upon completion of four years of college work, a Bachelor of Arts Degree is granted and the graduates are eligible to teach in either Elementary or Junior High School.

The Association for Childhood Education began the year with an impressive candle-light initiation ceremony in October. A. C. E.'s annual Homecoming breakfast was cancelled because of travel difficulties. The club helped in the care of children during P.-T. A. meetings and was hostess to parents waiting for teacher-parent conferences. A highlight of the Spring quarter was an Easter party for pre-school children. One meeting was devoted to doing Red Cross work. Also during the Spring quarter another initiation was held.

Guest speakers of the year were faculty members who discussed speech and physical education and a speaker on the Kellogg Foundation. One meeting was given over to our Publications Representative, who presented materials and references of special value and interest to the future teacher. At this meeting an attractive display was set up, showing the most desirable publications for the teacher.

Delta Omicron Chapter is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary education society organized to promote high educational ideals and to foster fellowship, scholarship, and achievement in educational work.

To recognize and encourage high scholastic standards, each Autumn the Recognition Tea is held for sophomores who, as freshmen, maintained high scholarship. Each year a Homecoming Luncheon is held to honor the Alumni. Three pledge breakfasts and initiations were held this year.

At each regular monthly meeting discussions are held on educational problems and other topics of interest to the club. This year the club has also studied the history of Kappa Delta Pi.

In May the annual banquet was held. The presentation of a C. W. C. faculty speaker and a speaker from the University of Washington were activities of the Spring quarter.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

TEACHER TRAINING:

In teacher training work it is our first endeavor to give prospective teachers a broad point of view, a concept of fundamental values, which may be applied in any teaching situation. Through a variety of experiences in teaching as well as in related professional courses student teachers learn of techniques and materials which outstanding educators and good teachers have found to be effective. They learn to develop some of the personal and social qualities which are desirable in all human relationships as well as to give self respect and strength of character needed for positions of leadership with children and adults. They get firsthand experience in working with boys and girls, in observing how they grow, how they behave, and how they learn in a variety of situations.

It takes more than three or four years at College to learn all of these things well. Many prospective teachers who are about to receive their diplomas realize better than at any previous time how much more there is to be learned. At our College their education as teachers has had a good beginning. We hope for them and for the youth they are to teach that it will be a continuous process.

DIVISION OF FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

The Department of Art comprising the fields of Home Economics, Fine Arts and Industrial Arts, has experienced a colorful war year making itself felt in various ways through the regular courses and through special features such as the style show during Fall quarter, pottery displays Winter quarter, and a series of traveling art exhibits that have been coming and going most of the year. People on the campus this year have been entertained and awed in the lower hall of the Administration Building by the most frequent and complete change of interesting educational material that the department has ever sponsored.

Kappa Pi, in spite of a limited membership, has had an interesting and worthwhile year. It has taken in several pledges and provisional members and has tried to have a richer program which would give them more activities, privileges, and responsibilities than in previous years.

Kappa Pi has had several members working on art work for THE SKETCH BOOK, national annual of the organization. Jean Johnson and Kathleen Chapman both have contributed drawings which will appear in this year's edition of the magazine.

Several interesting meetings were held during the year. Miss Wheeler spoke at one, giving a talk on the relationship of personality to color.

During Spring quarter Kappa Pi held an Art Bazaar in the Pink Room of the Administration Building. Members, pledges, and provisional members all contributed work for exhibition. Open House was held in the evening at which refreshments were served. The exhibition was left up for a week and was enjoyed by many students and faculty members.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The Health and Physical Education Department for Women contributes toward student welfare through the maintenance of student health, and the provision of a program of activities to fit the needs of the college women. Physical examination, posture checks, and immunity tests are representative of the health function of the department. Through the instructional program women students have opportunities to learn and participate in individual and group sports, and rhythmic activities. Seasonal sports such as hockey, soccer, softball, basketball, and volleyball are offered during the year and the individual sports include tennis, badminton, swimming, archery, golf, bowling, and skating. Women students may elect modern, American or social dancing.

Girls selecting teaching as a vocation may follow a major or minor curriculum and become teachers of physical education in elementary and junior high school. Former graduates have held positions in recreation as well as in the camping field. All prospective teachers are trained in physical education activities for the elementary school during their regular required physical education courses in the college.

Three campus organizations are affiliated with the Health and Physical Education Department—the Physical Education Club, which is for the promotion of professional interest, the Dance Club and the Women's Athletic Association. Both the Dance Club and W. A. A. conduct a year-round program in dance and sports and other recreational and social activities. Membership requirements make these clubs accessible to all students and thus provide added recreation in the form of Play Nights, practices, and tournaments in various sports. Firesides, banquets and the annual camping trip are highlights of the social activities of W. A. A.

The chief objectives set by the Women's Athletic Association for its yearly program were to provide activities in dance and sport for all girls who wished to participate regardless of their skill and previous experience. That this program was well carried out this year was evidenced by the wealth of activities and the large class of pledges initiated into the association members.

Fall quarter turnouts were held in hockey and later, as the weather became too cold, the girls moved inside and turned their attentions to volleyball. Social activities during this quarter included playnights for all college women and the annual Fall quarter fireside for new bers.

Basketball came to attention after the holidays and the hoop season ended with a thrilling three-team tournament. Badminton tournaments completed the activities for Winter quarter.

Highlight of this quarter, however, was the annual formal banquet held this year at the Antler's Hotel. A candlelight ceremony was held in Munson Hall before the banquet at which time 23 new members were initiated into the organization. Those girls were: Gertrude Adams, Celia Billette, Carol Burgess, Jo Colby, Beverley Dickson, Hazel Foisey, Madalyn Gordon, Gladys Jett, Aini Julin, Mildred Kukulan, Jeanne Kastle, Ellen Leckie, Rita Murphy, Evelyn Pryor, Ardis Scott, Mary Rowswell, Frances Spada, Glyde Shelton, Anne Sutherland, Lucille Trucano, Nada Van Alstine, Barbara Wilkinson, and Lois Wheeler.

Spring baseball turnouts were well attended and the annual camping trip brought to a close a busy and successful club year.

The purpose of Dance Club is to provide the opportunity for girls who are interested in dance to meet and work together.

The past year started out with a social and business meeting at the home of our advisor, Mrs. Virginia Brannan (formerly Miss Garrison). Election of officers was held and plans for the year begun. Fall quarter was uneventful but busy enough as we meet twice a week. Winter quarter there were seven new members admitted which brought new talent and ideas into the club. We gave a surprise party at one of our meetings for Mrs. Brannan in celebration of her wedding. The club attended the W. A. A. banquet in March and new members were then initiated. Unfortunately Mrs. Brannan left at the beginning of Spring quarter which was a decided handicap to us in the planning of our Spring program. Three new members were admitted in April but as some of our members had to drop the club membership was down to about ten acting members.

A short program was planned and given for the entertainment of the Mothers at their annual week-end program in May.

LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE

The Division of Languages and Literature, including English, speech, and foreign languages, has maintained its regular curriculum for college students, and in addition has participated in the training of the aviation students on the campus.

It has been the policy of the division to offer students the same quality of training which they would receive under normal conditions and, so far as it has been possible, to make available the same variety of courses. The members of the staff of the division have cooperated to make it possible to meet the many adjustments which have been necessary this year. College courses in English have been taught by Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Martin, Miss Cypreansen, and Dr. Bullard. Mr. Howell and Mr. Lembke have taught English classes in the army training program. The speech work has been handled by Miss Cypreansen and Mr. Lembke, and Mrs. Martin has taught the courses in French and Spanish.

"SPRING AGAIN"

Dramatic activity this year was limited by the absence of men in the student body and by the requirements of the cadet program. Only one play was presented—a faculty play. Students had a chance to see that their instructors really have talent.

SPRING AGAIN, the faculty play, was written by Leighton and Block. It was directed by Russell Lembke and starred Helen Michaelson and Norman Howell in the roles played on Broadway by Grace George and C. Aubrey Smith. Two college boys, Dainton Bearden and Frank Kueter, played small parts.

Other faculty members in the cast were Paul Blackwood, Kenneth Courson, Helen Fountain, Wayne Hertz, Elizabeth Hosking, Rush Jordan, Russell Lembke, Dorothy MacDonald, Lawrence Moe, and Reino Randall. Sergeant Ben Small of the Army Air Field also was in the cast.

Art work and costuming was supervised by Miss Juanita Walter. Performances of SPRING AGAIN were given on November 26 and December 1.

Juanita Davies Music; energetic—zealous music instructor.
Lawrence Moe Music; superior artistry—conscientious.
Jane Sylliaason Music; lively interest—competent music instructor.

MUSIC

The Music Department has had a very busy year in spite of the decreased enrollment in the student body. Eight scholarships were awarded to incoming freshman in voice, piano, and various instruments. Enrollment in the Women's Glee Club has been approximately forty and it has done very fine work throughout the year. Mr. Hertz went into the army program in mathematics during December and consequently Mr. Moe directed the Glee Club Winter and Spring quarters. There has been widespread interest in applied music this year. Approximately sixty different people have studied piano during the three quarters with equal interest in the other applied fields. The band has been discontinued for the duration, but small ensemble groups have been active. Members of the faculty and several student performers have been busy in the community and surrounding cities in various capacities—recitals, concerts, contests, judging, etc. A new course in Formal Analysis was added to the list of elective courses in music this year. In the Fall it will become a required course.

Sigma Mu Epsilon is an organization made up of students who are music majors or minors and students who are very much interested in music and have something to contribute to the organization. The purpose of Sigma Mu, as stated in the charter, is "to promote cooperative effort and to forward all business and activities that may contribute to music in C. W. C. E."

One of the main activities of the organization is sponsoring student recitals. These furnish an opportunity for music students to perform in public. This year one recital was held each quarter.

Sigma Mu gave a reception for the Morley-Gearhart piano team which gave a concert here in April.

The club also helps to maintain the music library for the benefit of all students on the campus. It contains a very fine record collection available to all students and used in connection with various music classes.

WOMEN'S CHOIR

The war has probably affected the college choir more than any other organization on the campus, with the exception of the athletic teams. The first change that it brought was that it took away the boys who had formerly made up one half of the choir, and necessitated changing the name from A Cappella Choir to Women's Glee Club. Secondly, Mr. Wayne Hertz, who has been the director of the group, was transferred to teaching mathematics to the cadets on the campus. Mr. Lawrence Moe capably took charge of the organization for Winter and Spring quarters.

Each Spring of previous years, the choir has made an extended tour in the Yakima and Wenatchee valleys and a trip to the coast, visiting many high schools and churches. Due to the war, this was impossible this year. The activities of the organization were confined to the college and community. It made numerous appearances and represented itself very well. The choir sang at the Thanksgiving service at Christmas and at several other functions as well as presenting a Spring concert.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

This department tries to live up to the obligations imposed upon it by a rapidly expanding scientific world. Its activities and functions may be considered to fall under five heads:

1. Provision of teaching majors and minors for students who wish to specialize as public school instructors.
2. Broad contacts for the classroom teacher.
3. The basic scientific background for the professions such as dentistry, engineering, etc.
4. Research problems taken from unique local features such as meteorology, geology, faunas, and floras.
 - a. As a contribution to the local community.
 - b. As a stimulus toward research work and attitudes on the part of the student.
5. The broad cultural aspects—a general feeling and respect for science in its many ramifications.

PHOEBIANS

Phoebe, the friend of St. Paul, organized the nursing of the sick poor on a large scale. Being a church deaconess, she made journeys to Rome, evidently in connection with her work, and "She succored many," St. Paul among the number. She proved herself a woman of character and ability. That is the woman the Nurses Club is named for. The Phoebeians is an average club with meetings, dues, and parties. Meeting every other week, it carries on such activities as putting on a display, showing the development of nursing and Red Cross work. The size of the club doesn't hinder it from being active. There are only nine members, with Mrs. Anderson as advisor.

Many people ask what pre-nurses are doing in a teachers' college. It is very simple. The girls are taking a pre-nursing course to give them college credit in addition to hospital training. With this extra schooling they can earn a B. S. degree as well as becoming graduate nurses.

INFIRMARY

The College Infirmary in the last year has not been lacking in patients both from the student body and the 314th C. T. D.

The health services offered by the college consist of a physical examination for every student enrolled and hospitalization for illnesses with the services of a physician and three full-time nurses. Two college students are employed in the infirmary's diet kitchen.

Even with the small space afforded the infirmary, the staff managed very well this past year when, at several times, there were more than the number of patients originally provided for.

When the slightest health problem confronts a student, he is urged to go to the infirmary for advice. The College nurses are always glad to be of any assistance.

Prevention is the key-note of C. W. C. E.'s health program.

Doris Anderson Commercial Education; diplomatic—clever manager.

Russ Jordon Social Science; full of surprises—ingenious inventor.

Tim K. Kelley Geography; outdoor enthusiast—up-to-date on current events.

SOCIAL STUDIES

During the present school year the Social Studies Division has not only continued its normal work of preparing social studies teachers for the elementary and junior high schools of the state and of preparing office secretaries, but has also participated actively in the A. A. F. C. T. D. program by instructing aviation students in geography and history.

In addition to these war services, the department has contributed five of its members to the government and to the Military: Mr. Holmes, its former chairman, represents the Fourth Congressional District of Washington in the United States House of Representatives; Dr. Carstensen is historian for the quartermaster's depot in Seattle; Mr. Gorter, who served as acting price administration for a time in the Seattle office of the O. P. A., is in the army; and Dr. Odell and Mr. Broadhead are in the South Pacific war theatre, the former with the navy and the latter with the army. Fortunately the department was able to procure four experienced teachers, Mr. Jordan, Mr. Kelley, Mr. Behrenbrinker, and Dr. Mohler, to carry on the instructional work of these men.

The Herodoteans, the history honorary of C. W. C. E., was organized in 1923 under the advisorship of the late Professor Herbert Fish; it is now the oldest club in existence on the campus.

Members of the International Relations Club were made associate members of the Herodotean Club this year, making a total of twenty-two members.

During the Autumn quarter the Herodoteans were co-sponsors of a panel featuring three University professors on the topic "The United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, China, and Their Relations to the United Nations". A student forum on the topic "How Latin America Got That Way" was held Winter quarter.

A display of new books received from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace was set up in the library. The club now has 94 books in its collection.

In the Spring quarter the members assisted Dr. Mohler in obtaining material for his book on the history of Central Washington College of Education.

WHITBECK CLUB

OFFICERS:

Whitbeck Club, the geography club, got off to a good start with the addition of a number of new members.

The first meeting of each quarter is a social meeting with exciting games and refreshments as headliners of the evening. There's never a dull moment—especially when Dr. Shaw shows his collection of New Yorker cartoons. Then to bring the club back to the purpose of its organization, the remainder of the meetings are devoted to talks or movies presented by people who have traveled and who have interesting geographical information to present to the club.

The highlight of Winter quarter was a delightful evening spent with Miss Michaelson—listening to her experiences in China and admiring her collection of Chinese embroidery and other pieces of handicraft.

Dr. and Mrs. Shaw are loyal supporters of Whitbeck Club and are most generous in offering the hospitality of their home to the members of this group.

Student Government and Publications

S. G. A. EXECUTIVE BOARD

With a student body composed almost entirely of girls, the Student Government Association Executive Board has functioned efficiently and smoothly on all matters for such a totally different year.

The work of the council for the year includes a varied program; among the more important activities are helping with a Freshman Orientation program, Homecoming in spite of travel difficulties, and indoctrination period for new student body officers working with the Student Welfare Committee, student forums, securing a closet for the storage of S. G. A. social equipment, the Colonial Ball, Open House, class-sponsored competitive assemblies, purchase of records and upkeep of the Student Lounge.

HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council was established with the new form of student government. It is a group of six students selected by the majority of students in the general election.

It is the duty of the Honor Council to deal with all infractions of the Honor System and to provide appropriate disciplinary action.

Besides judging infractions of the Honor System, the Honor Council is constantly working on a general plan for improving campus life, library, housing, and social conditions.

FACULTY STUDENT WELFARE COMMITTEE

The Faculty Student Welfare Committee, which was established in 1941, has two functions: (1) To advise the social deans, the Honor Council, and the executive board of the Student Government Association when advise is requested or deemed proper to give voluntarily. (2) To act upon disciplinary cases referred to it by the social deans or by the Honor Council.

Throughout the year, the committee and student leaders met frequently around the large table in the Home Economics dining room, exchanging viewpoints and making plans for the enrichment of student life.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

The Associated Women Students is the organization to which all women in college belong. Its purpose is to further the interest of women students to provide a means for expressing their opinion, and to develop a spirit of loyalty and cooperation.

As is its custom, the A. W. S. sponsored the Welcoming Assembly for girls, and a tea on the first Sunday of Fall quarter for all students and faculty.

The highlight of the Fall quarter was the Snow Ball, impressive with its colors and gay dresses, but different this year in that khaki predominated in the men's attire.

The climax of the school year was the Mother's Day tea and program which were held on the same day, due to housing and dining difficulties.

CAMPUS CRIER

1943-44 has proved to be a tradition shattering year in the history of C. W. C. E. For the first time the Campus Crier, weekly student publication, has been written, edited, and managed by an all-woman staff.

Although the shortage of men on the campus is admitted, there seems to have been no dampening of the enthusiasm for news, promptly and accurately reported. It has been the aim of the staff to supply this demand.

Under the direction of Virginia Young, freshman from Yakima, standards set by other editors have been maintained, in some cases even surpassed. From her experience has emerged a newspaper, streamlined and well suited to life on a war-time campus. When Virginia resigned as editor at the beginning of Spring quarter, Patricia Anderson took over the editorship, finishing out the year in the same capable manner that Virginia had begun it.

All Crier business transactions have been in the hands of Mary Rowsell, who also has been in charge of the ever-increasing mailing list to former students now in the service and others who still like to keep in touch with the College through the medium of the paper.

Serving in the capacities of news editor and feature editor, Patricia Anderson and Wilda Hall are also worthy of special mention.

Realizing that the school publications play an important part in college life, the staff as a whole has cooperated in endeavoring to keep the Campus Crier what it has always been to C. W. C. E.

HYAKEM

Under the supervision of the editor, Isabel Monk, and her assistant, Joyce Pugh, the 1944 Hyakem met publication dates despite war-time troubles. The two advisers, Mr. Hogue and Dr. Bullard helped to overcome many of the difficulties that arose.

The many shots of campus life are due through the persistence of the Photography Editor, George Krieger, who devoted much time to recording social and scholastic events. Cornelia Anderson's two previous years of annual work in college made her a valuable asset.

The staff wishes to acknowledge to all of those who contributed their time to help in the completion of the Hyakem.

The Canterbury Club of C. W. C. E. is a charter member of the Association of Canterbury Clubs, with representation on more than fifty campuses of leading universities and colleges in the United States. It is the official college group of the Episcopal Church. Its aim is to keep the Church with the students during their college days, and it has a definite program looking toward the spiritual growth of the students in keeping with their advance in academic learning.

Each member is expected to subscribe to a "Rule of Life" which includes an earnest effort: (1) To worship God every Sunday in His Church. (2) To pray daily. (3) To set aside a definite amount of time each week for devotional reading. (4) To give a definite portion of time and money to the life and work of the Church.

Meetings are held weekly during the college year. These meetings consist of study of the historic faith, discussion of pertinent problems in the light of Christian experience, fellowship and recreation.

Wesley Club, the Methodist Church student organization on the campus, started the year's activities with an open house at the church parsonage.

Guest speakers and discussions were the main features of the Sunday evening meetings. Throughout the Fall quarter the addresses were on the general theme of the church. Each meeting was preceded by games and refreshments. Beginning with the Winter quarter the club's activities were planned by a committee of aviation students and the club's officers. Frequent parties were held during the year, some of them being at the homes of members of the church.

The special activities of the organization were the monthly publication of a club paper, the STEEPLES; taking charge of the Y. M. C. A. desk one evening a month; and the Student Recognition Day when the group had charge of the Sunday morning church service.

Keeping pace with the tempo of war time the Off-Campus Women have proven themselves to be an active organization.

During the Fall quarter they edited and distributed "Who's Who at C. W. C. E.", a faculty-student directory. This was acclaimed the best ever published.

Fall quarter also saw a very entertaining and highly enjoyable Christmas party and dance put on for the college and aviation students. Santa Claus was there with two red stockings actually bulging with goodies for the girl and aviation student who held the lucky number.

Probably the most outstanding feature of the Winter quarter was the traditional Carnival sponsored by the O. C. W. Club. Entertainment for the evening was provided by dancing, fortune telling, a photograph booth, penny pitching, and darts. The food bar, too, was popular, but the most popular feature was those persons who won the roast chickens that were raffled off.

The annual O. C. W.'s banquet was held March 7 at the Antler's Hotel. Each year at this affair the Off-Campus Women's Scholarship is presented to a member of the club. This year it was awarded to Immojean Cheek.

The highlight of the year was, without a doubt, the May Prom held in the Spring quarter. A large crowd turned out to enjoy "Springtime in Vienna".

The Sue Lombard girls still have the reputation of being an active group on the campus. Each quarter they have enjoyed gay houseparties, including a riotous costume party. Fall quarter they won first prize for the best stunt at Homecoming and also had the traditional Alumni tea.

Christmas this year was one they will never forget. The Munson Hall girls joined in singing Christmas carols and many felt a reverence even greater than they have felt in former years.

The beauty of Sue Lombard has been heightened by the addition of a plate glass mirror in the East Room. The hall also bought a crystal punch bowl set.

The climax of the year was the annual Daffodil Dance held April 15, 1944.

Former Kamola girls, now completely at home in Munson Hall, welcomed the first feminine freshman class at the traditional get-acquainted meeting September 22. The meeting also served to introduce Mrs. Effie Oldham, new housemother.

Activities of the year began when Munson Hall took second place in the Homecoming stunt night with an original version of Little Red Riding Hood, and continued with the sponsoring of an open house, several informal firesides and the annual Christmas tea. The last meeting of the quarter featured the Christmas party complete with exchange of gifts and caroling.

The Moon Glow formal highlighter Winter quarter. Transported into darkets Africa by the theme of witchcraft and black magic, couples danced in the Munson Hall recreation room, decorated for the event, the Tabare Moonglow, with erie lighting and bizarre murals.

Events of the year were completed by the tea given in honor of the graduating Munsonites.

Captain William Whiting

314th C. T. D.

A military air was added to the C. W. C. campus by the presence of the 314th College Training Detachment. In many respects the aviation students were to be regarded as regular college students as they attended classes in the various buildings and were instructed by college professors. They attended the social functions of the college and used the recreational facilities provided.

Miss Forgey and her staff of kitchen assistants prepared and served three meals a day in the college dining hall. From the College Bookstore Miss Aspenwall checked out classroom supplies. Mr. Muzzall, as coordinator between the school and the army, scheduled classes and other functions. Many adjustments were necessary on the part of the college to meet the changing needs of the Detachment when they were ordered to add another hour of classes to their schedule. Due to the constant shifting of Flights there was much planning and arranging for a suitable program. Despite all of this it has been a pleasure for Central Washington to aid in the war effort in this way.

STUDENT-CADET DANCES

Due to the influx of Aviation Students on our campus, the S. G. A. felt responsible for a social program which would include both the Student Body and the boys of the College Training detachment.

One of the programs sponsored by the S. G. A. was the Saturday Night Dances which proved to be quite successful. A variety of themes was carried out, as was seen by the Hallowe'en and Christmas dances. School talent was displayed during the programs held at intermissions. Along with the music of the "juke box", punch was served, which added to the festivities.

We owe our Dean of Women, Mrs. Hitchcock, a vote of thanks for her assistance in helping to make these functions successful.

ASSEMBLIES

An outstanding Assembly Program was arranged for the Central Washington Student Body this year. Variation in speakers and subject matter was responsible for the good attendance.

In February, Governor Langlie of Washington addressed the Student Body and the 314th C. T. D. on "The Importance of 1944 at Home and Abroad". During the same week the noted commentator, John B. Hughes, spoke on solving the political problems that will arise after the war.

Not many will forget the outstanding sense of humor possessed by Colonel Mr. Thomas Tchou, a brilliant Chinese philosopher and soldier. Captains Tom Stephens, Keith Williams, Robert Carr, and Mickey Rogers, all former members of C. W. C., were presented in an inspiring program by Leo Nicholson of the Physical Education Department. A Collier's correspondent, Irina Skariater, just back from the front spoke on the war in Russia. Another speaker on Russia and Post-War Europe was Eden Quainton. For a psychological point of view Miss Mary Sandall spoke on the problems of human behavior which face all of us and "The Power of a Point of View". Mrs. Lili Foldes lectured on European women and what the future holds for them.

Acclaimed by many as the best assembly of the year was the one featuring Aviation Students Richard Vanderneck and Max Reinstein who spoke of their exploitations in the European theatre of war.

HOMECOMING

"Unto thee our Alma Mater
Here we pledge devotion true. . ."

Another year 1943 and another Homecoming! Though greatly curtailed by the war, the students presented the alumni a festive weekend.

Barbara Howard, general chairman, aided by Mary Huntley, Lorraine Focht, Virginia Young, Mary Roswell, Helen Hines, Joan Arbuthnot, and Frances Hewitt carried out the traditional activities of Homecoming with the registration, visiting of the personnel offices and the College Elementary School, basketball game, Welcoming Tea, Stunt Nite climaxed by the Homecoming Dance. Of necessity the Frosh bonfire, annual banquet, rally, parade and football game had to be omitted.

Bette Gray, a junior from Wickersham, was crowned queen with attending princesses Marie Kordes of Cle Elum and Frances Hewitt of Portland, Oregon.

The Stunt Night prizes went to Sue Lombard as first, Munson Hall with second and Off-Campus Women third.

THINK TWICE

Before Traveling

Keeping transportation working full-time for Victory is so essential that it's worth a little personal inconvenience now and then. Remember—there are only so many buses and bus seats. If you travel for pleasure you may prevent some service man from enjoying his furlough, or you may delay some one who must travel on important war business. Make it a rule to postpone pleasure trips until Victory is won—to make necessary trips in the mid-week, avoiding week-ends and holidays.
